dust down your pension assets

A pension scheme is viewed by many as no more than a 'bank account', not normally accessed until you retire or semi-retire. Something to leave untouched for the future. However that is very much yesterday's view.

Recent changes to pension legislation means that while the basics remain the same, your pension assets are now much more than a forgotten, untouchable thing.

Unfortunately so many of us put tens of thousands of pounds in our pension and still just leave it there, gathering dust.

reap the benefits

Pension Watch is a service from Beaumont Robinson providing bespoke ongoing pension management to take advantage of all the new opportunities.

Using unique advanced technology, it monitors the returns on your pension arrangements and we make appropriate recommendations. In tough times as well as boom times, Pension Watch works to ensure your valuable pension assets are protected where possible from market volatility, with the aim of providing financially stress-free entry into retirement.

constantly on the case

Our Pension Watch service will first of all determine the cost of consolidating your pension funds. Then it monitors the performance of your holdings - making recommendations for any appropriate adjustments. Finally, rebalancing your holdings as retirement gets nearer.

We will update you regularly in plain English not technical gobbledygook.

It means an experienced adviser is always making your pension work for you - day in, day out. Much better than leaving things to gather dust.
